Jan 01 - Dec 31	01-Jan-16	Dublin	National Mycotoxin Sampling Programme–Bulk Sampling	100 bulk samples will be accepted for mycotoxin testing in 2016. Please note that for aflatoxin B ₁ , B ₂ , G ₁ , and G ₂ testing, only 'bulk' samples will be accepted. An exception to this requirement for aflatoxin B ₁ , B ₂ , G ₁ , and G ₂ testing relates to dry cereal-based baby food and peanut butter which are homogeneous products and representative samples can be obtained at retail level.	Sample according to Regulation 401/2006	Aflatoxins B ₁ , B ₂ , G ₁ , and G ₂ , Ochratoxin A, Zearalenone, Fumonisin and DON (A)	CG / LD / KM / JK / PE	Reg. 1881/2006	Commission Regulation 1881/2006	Please also note that the bulk sample capacity throughout the year is in addition to the retail sampling programme. The number of samples for mycotoxin testing to be taken at retail level is at a reduced level again in 2016 to allow bulk sampling to take place. Having regard to the laboratory's responsibilities as NRL for mycotoxins and the maintenance of competency, some samples are required for each matrix for each mycotoxin to fulfil these laboratory requirements hence the retention of retail sampling at a low level. In addition, some matrices are not yet covered in the legislation and analysis is undertaken for information collection purposes e.g. ochratoxin A in chocolate and beer, T-2 and HT-2 in cereals. It is necessary to book in samples prior to despatch/delivery to the laboratory. Please indicate on the Sample Analysis Request Form if a sample	Y		EHS		1	2016	1
